Introduction

Webdeal respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the personal information you share with us. It is important for us to comply with any relevant and applicable regulation and legislation in relation to privacy. Thus we have rules for your usage of our services as well as rules for ourselves. This privacy statement describes how Webdeal collects and uses your personal information to provide services that you request or when you choose to provide us with your personal information.

Definitions

«A web beacon» is an electronic image, often called a single-pixel (1x1) or clear GIF. Web beacons can recognize certain types of information on a visitor's computer, such as a visitor's cookie number, time and date of a page viewed and a description of the page where the web beacon is placed. If you turn off the browser's cookies, this will prevent the Web beacons from tracking your activity. The Web beacon will however still account for anonymous visits, but the user's unique information will obviously not be recorded.

«Cookies» are parcels of text that are sent to your computers web browser by some Web servers, when you visit them. The same parcel of text is later sent back unchanged by the browser each time it accesses that server.

Cookies are not a computer program of any kind and perform any performance by themselves; therefore they cannot read or change any data on your computer.

Cookies are used by Web servers to differentiate users and to maintain data related to the user during navigation and multiple visits. This is to be able to offer a personalised experience to users, a consistent experience between sections of the site and to gather information about website use. A cookie file can contain information such as a user ID that the site uses to track the pages you have visited. A cookie will never contain any personal information of you unless you have supplied this yourself.

If you do not want to receive cookies while browsing websites or via HTML-formatted emails, you can set your browser to warn you before accepting cookies and refuse the cookie when your browser alerts you. Most Web browser gives you the opportunity to block or allow cookies on all websites or choose which websites' cookies are allowed.

For further information about cookies, other tracking technologies and, instructions for blocking their use, see <http://privacy.getnetwise.org/browsing/tools/> or <http://www.aboutcookies.org/Default.aspx?page=1>
